

General Information on Hampshire County

Once a part of Virginia, we are the oldest county in West Virginia. All year long we will be proudly showing-off our heritage at festivals, historic events, and everyday life. Be sure to take a minute to browse our calendar of events for 2005. We have everything to offer...from bluegrass to jazz, a scenic excursion train ride, arts and crafts, to fine dining...fishing, canoeing, archery, hunting and motor sports...sunrises atop Cooper Mountain, and the catch-your-breath sighting of an American Bald Eagle along the South Branch River. Rich in French and Indian War history, we have Fort Edwards Visitor's Center and Museum in Capon Bridge. Civil War buffs will find Taggart Hall and Fort Mill Ridge Civil War Trenches of particular interest. Decide to linger awhile? We have many fine B&B's, campgrounds, motels, resorts and restaurants.

Hampshire County Schools Beliefs

All children will make progress toward achieving mastery of their essential curriculum given appropriate times and conditions.

Hampshire County Schools are responsible for creating the conditions necessary for all students to learn.

Commitment to high standards in all aspects of the organization is essential to provide learning for all.

Strong instructional leadership and highly qualified personnel are required to build the system and develop the culture to achieve learning for all.

Parents are valued and respected partners involved in the school activities to enhance student learning.

Hampshire County Schools will increase the number of students who achieve mastery and beyond and decrease the number of non-proficient students in all disaggregated sub-groups.

Transforming Hampshire County Schools to provide learning for all requires a systemic continuous improvement process.
